First Nations Public Service Secretariat (FNPSS)

2018 Conference

March 13 - 14, 2018

Executive Airport Plaza Hotel

7311 Westminster Hwy, Richmond, BC

The FNPSS was created in response to requests for an organization to support collective Nation building activities and to help build healthier First Nations citizenships through the development of effective public service operations and workforces.

The Courage to Excel

Building from consultations with BC First Nations, the FNPSS has created a comprehensive plan to support First Nations in their pursuit of excellence in public service.

Please Join Us As We Plan Our Strategy for Change!

We invite you for two days of learning and planning.

A panel of experts in the field of public service operations and capacity development will set the stage, along with a series of workshops and networking sessions will then facilitate a sharing of experience, knowledge, and strategies for enhancing the effectiveness of First Nations' program and service delivery.

The Conference will also provide an opportunity to collectively plan the way ahead for our organization. Come and tell us your needs and priorities as we identify potential FNPSS initiatives for the year ahead.

We need your guidance so we can effectively help strengthen our foundations for Nation-building and self-governance advancement.

Further information on agenda forthcoming.
